Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. The invention relates to a roulette table device with progressive jackpot.
2. Document D1: WO-A1-02/40118 is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art and discloses (the references in parentheses applying to this document):
A roulette table device with progressive jackpot (see claim 1 and fig. 3).
3. From this document the present application distinguishes itself in that a detection area is provided on a gaming table of the device, for detection the movement of a so-called dolly in the detection area (cf. pg. 2 ln. 32-35).
4. Although Document D2: US-A-5683084 discloses a casino dolly for use in a roulette game, this detects the presence of a hand or movement of chips in an area around the dolly but not the movement of the dolly itself.
Therefor a combination between these two prior art documents is not possible since a skilled person in the art would not arrive at the same roulette table as the one defined in the present independent claim 1.
5. Since none of the other available prior art document discloses such a roulette table as in the independent claim 1, it is considered that this claim fulfils the requirements of the ARTICLE 33(2) AND (3) PCT in view of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability.
6. The remaining dependent claims 2-11 also meet the requirements of the PCT.
